 That the drawings of families, kindred, and honors are among the most principal elements of human life, and that the knowledge of them is necessary to the understanding of the human mind, and the conduct of human life, is a truth which is everywhere acknowledged.
 The following is a list of the names of the persons who have taken place in the most distinguished positions of the human mind, and who have been distinguished by their talents, and by their virtues.
